

Attendance: The Full Picture

2017 Latitude User Conference

The two-and-a-half days with PathGuide's experts and other Latitude product peers will provide your organization with a ton of benefits in the form of greater knowledge and practical skills and techniques that employees will apply directly to their job.

In Return for Your Approval

Why not encourage your employees to share what they've learned with colleagues and coworkers upon their return? Attendees will have access to session handouts and presentations so that others will benefit from their conference participation. That's an immediate ROI you can feel good about.

Bring More. Save More.

This conference is a great training opportunity that happens to pay professional development dividends. Which people in your organization stand out as the most dedicated to improving warehouse efficiencies and operations? Let them know by bringing them with you.

Top Reasons to Send Your Employees

Best Practices

Our conference provides insights that are difficult to come by while managing the day-to-day back home. Attendees will bring back tools, techniques and strategies to implement post-conference, benefitting your operations.

Real-time Training & Knowhow

This conference is unique because it offers one-on-one training sessions. Attendees will experience the latest insights and learn more about what's on PathGuide's horizon, and how it will impact your company.

Attendee Types

Something for everyone. PathGuide has customized its educational sessions around every type of audience member so that each attendee can feel good about maximizing their time and investment.

Peer to Peer Knowledge Sharing

Tried and true, attendees get inspired to do the same things even more effectively by comparing and exchanging ideas with others.
